CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

If the expectations of the committee in charge of the starting of the Children's Hospital are realized, the money will soon be on hand and the actual work may be started shortly after October 1. The offer was made by George Wilcox that he would furnish the funds needed to buy land, construct and furnish the building needed, if $50,000 for an endowment fund could be raised in this city. He also agreed to give $5,000 towards the running expenses of the first year. The committee in charge, of which Judge Dole is chairman and E. A. Mott-Smith is secretary, has succeeded in raising within $9,000 of the amount desired and is now making efforts to complete the fund at once. C. R. Bishop within the last few days made an offer to give $5,000, provided that a like sum was given by some one else before the end of the year. Mr.

LURLINE AWAKES AND CALLS ISBELL FROM 'MOST A THOUSAND MILES TO REPORT THE RACING TENYO PASSING HER ABEAM —MATSON AND JAPANESE VESSELS CONVERSE WHILE KAHUKU LISTENS—MESSAGES FROM BOTH TO FOLKS ASHORE.

M. N. S. S. Lurline, at Sea, June 26, 1908, 9:30 p. m.
To Castle & Cooke, Ltd. Honolulu:
Nine hundred and forty miles from Diamond Head. The S. S. Tenyo Maru is now passing abeam. Smooth sea and moderate wind. We are making twelve knots and expect to reach San Francisco early Tuesday morning.

MATSON.

The above remarkable ethergram was received at the Wireless Telegraph Company's Kahuku long distance station last night by Expert Arthur A. Isbell who last evening passed several hours of most entertaining listening to sparks afar, for the Lurline of the Matson Navigation Company and the Tenyo Maru, the great new steamship of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, had awakened to neighborliness and were bawling away at each other in great shape, swapping gossip, comparing positions and, sometimes, apparently not aware that on the northernmost point of this island, almost a thousand miles away, there was Isbell drinking in every word.

As is shown by the wireless message to Castle & Cooke, from the Lurline, above quoted, the T. K. K. Tenyo Maru and the Lurline were both 940 miles from Diamond Head at 9:30 o'clock last night, for the Lurline says the Tenyo was passing abeam.

For an hour or two before that time the Lurline and the Tenyo had been talking and it was after 10 o'clock when Isbell heard the last of their conversation, Radiotelegrapher Owada of the Tenyo closing with:

"Good night, I wish you a pleasant dream."

When the Lurline last night wire- lessed the fact that the Tenyo Maru was passing abeam, the Tenyo was out fifty-four hours and had averaged about 17-14 miles per hour, upon which she must improve or else her record will be five days flat instead of four and a half days as is expected or four days and eight hours as she intended on leaving here.

To do it in four days and eight hours she would have to average over nineteen miles an hour.

If the Lurline gave the position correctly the Tenyo will not make it in four days and eight hours unless she makes over twenty-one miles an hour straight from the time she was reported last night.

The Tenyo Maru will probably make the run in four and a half days.

Isbell reports the signals very clear and he could hear the Tenyo plainer than he could the night before, although, considering the Tenyo's plant, he had not expected to hear her at all last night.

For two previous nights the Lurline was silent and it was a pleasant surprise to hear her conversing with the Tenyo.

Numerous business and other private messages were received from both the Tenyo and the Lurline by Isbell.

SECY. GARFIELD AT AALA PARK

Aala Park has had many crowds in the last few years to attend ball games, political meetings, etc., but never before has such a crowd been seen in Honolulu as was seen last night at the meeting when Secretary Garfield of the Department of the Interior spoke to anywhere from five to seven thousand men, women and children. Long before seven o'clock people began to arrive so that they would be able to get seats near to the band stand and thus be able to hear distinctly all that was to be said by the speakers, Governor Frear, Secretary Garfield and Delegate Kuhio.

The Hawaiian band arrived on the scene at seven o'clock, and from then up to the time when the party arrived on the stand they dispensed patriotic music to the assembled multitude, ending their part of the evening's entertainment with Aloha Oe, Hawaii Pono and the Star Spangled Banner.

Whenever the first notes of the American national anthem thrilled the welkin, there was a spontaneous rising of numbers of those seated, together with a general raising of head coverings by the men of all nationalities. The solo singing of Madam Alapai noticeably won the rapt attention of Secretary Garfield.

The stand with the Hawaiian and American flags entwined made a very pretty picture with the reflection of the torches and the many lights around the

FORT SHAFTER ESCAPES CALM- LY VISIT RESTAURANT NEAR POLICE STATION.

In the very shadow of the police station, three hours after they had wormed their way through a tangle of the guard house of Fort Shafter, beyond the door of which armed sentries paced to and fro and exchanged the watchword, Dusenberry and Smith, the young pirates who stole Captain Miller's schooner-yacht Lady and wrecked her at Waianae, yesterday morning at 6 o'clock coolly walked into the Royal Cafe, "Scotty" Meaton, proprietor, and ordered breakfast.

Dusenberry tried to borrow a couple of dollars from the genial host, but "Scotty" didn't know them and "passed them up."

After breakfasting they selected toothpicks, passed the time of day and walked out through the door way on the corner of Nuuanu and Merchant streets, although it was not noticed whether they struck for the waterfront or up Nuuanu.

It was not until this morning, when "Scotty" saw the pictures of the young pirates in the Advertiser, that he recognized the fact that they had had breakfast in his cafe.

The police are today searching the S. S. Manuka, lest the pirates, also wanted at Fort Shafter for twice deserting, should attempt to stow away in her. They are Englishmen and the Manuka, being a British boat, might attract them. All other vessels in the harbor have been searched.

Chief of Detectives Taylor has caused to be posted numerous portraits of the escapes and the police as well as several soldiers from Fort Shafter, detailed to assist the police, are searching for the runaways.

It is reported that they were seen last night at Aala Park, in the crowd.

GARNISHEE FEDERAL MAN

TEN PER CENT FULLERTON ENTERTAINMENT SUIT IN THE DISTRICT COURT.

A strange suit has been entered in the District Court which will probably be thrown out as soon as it comes to the attention of Judge Andrade. It is an attempt to collect a bill by garnisheeing a Customs officer. In the suit E. R. Stackable is named as the garnishee. It has been held in many cases that the Government could not be made a party to any such suit and J. E. Fullerton, well known as one of the ten per cent a month money sharks, will be doing well if he gets around the law in the case.

Another peculiar matter in the suit is that E. R. Stackable personally is cited to appear before the court as garnishee, but not in his official capacity. As the customs officer works for the Government and not for Stackable the case appears to be rather flimsy.

Mauna Kea Falls From Drydock

Plunging from the marine railway, cradle and all, the Inter-Island Company's fine new, 1,600-ton steamship Mauna Kea, Captain Freeman, at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon, took a startling dive stern-first into the harbor.

There was great excitement aboard for a few moments, as may well be imagined and, at the moment of the plunge, men who were on the cradle, tending the docking, jumped from the top of the cradle into the water to save themselves from harm.

Captain Freeman was on the bridge at the time the chains of the marine railway parted and the cradle was dropped back into the water with a rush that was faster than any launching.

As soon as she started Captain Freeman, with great presence of mind, ordered the anchors away and one anchor was dropped into the cradle itself, the other mudhook catching the harbor bottom before the Mauna Kea had time to shoot out into the bay or smash into shipping.

The Mauna Kea is in need of a scraping and she was to have been taken on the marine railway this afternoon to get the seams off her. The operation of getting the cradle, bearing her, up ashore was watched with keen interest, for she is the limit of the dock.

When she was within fifteen feet of the finish a staple in a shackle of a chain snapped and the connection parted and all the strain was thrown suddenly on one chain, which could not bear the tug, and that went too, with the result that there was a quiver, a jump and a great rush of Mauna Kea, cradle and gear for the water.

At this point men on the cradle took care of themselves and did the high dive.

Members of the ship's company at lunch in the saloon wondered whether an earthquake or a tidal wave had hit them and from all parts of the vessel they rushed to see what was the matter, a number being banged about by the sudden careening and jostle of the ship.

Fortunately no damage was done the ship and no one was hurt, but it is disappointing to the Inter-Island people who wanted to get the Mauna Kea's bottom scraped in time for the Fourth of July excursion.
